Village of Chatham and Town of Ghent Residents/Homeowners:

The week of September 9, 2019, the Village of Chatham experienced a source water main break and a leak at the water storage tank in Ghent causing a State of Emergency to be declared. The Village reached out to residents via email, social media, website, television, radio and door to door notification regarding this matter. It was learned that not every person had received the information.

In an effort to reach everyone successfully, we are again asking people to sign up for Code Red. Code Red is offered through Columbia County 911. The website is www.columbiacounty911.com where you can go online and sign up for this service. Whenever there is an emergency situation, you will receive a phone call or text message if preferred. You can make the choice based on your individual preference.

If you do not have a computer, you can call Columbia County 911 and someone will assist you with enrollment. The number to call is (518) 828-1263.

We will continue to make every effort to reach the residents of the Village of Chatham and the Town of Ghent (where Village water is delivered) through email, social media, and our website. If we do not already have your email address, please provide that to the Village Clerk's office and we will put you on the email list.
